

Creative Industries & Marketing Directory China

2023

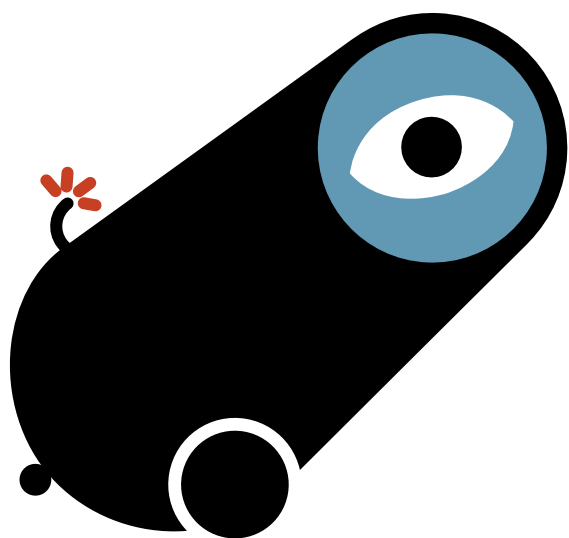

January Edition – Volume 2.0

Welcome to Volume 2.0 of the Creative Industries & Marketing Directory China.

Led by the British Chamber of Commerce Shanghai, this Directory is a comprehensive list of international creative firms operating in China today. Updated bi-annually, this is a powerful tool for companies and Chamber networks to connect the best international talent available.

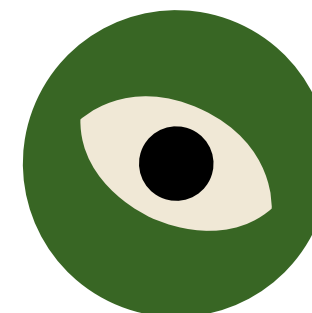

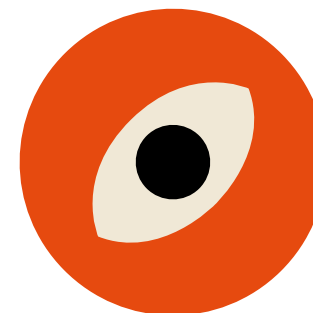

This Directory is just one initiative driven by the Chamber's Creative Industries and Marketing Committee who advocate for fairer market conditions, share essential industry knowledge and champion the best creative talent in China.

Join our creative community as a member to be part of the creative industries knowledge events, panels, activities and social gatherings. Find out more at: britishchambershanghai.cn

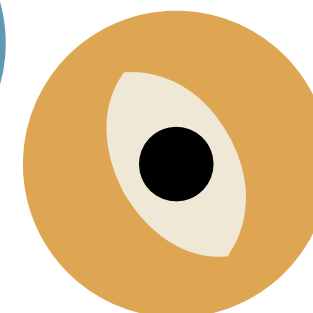

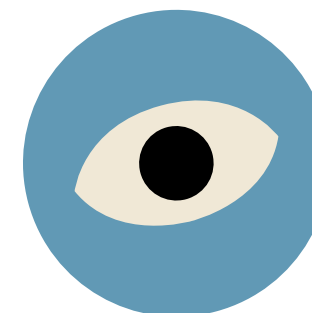

Our creative community includes a diverse range of international creative firms — from large to small, from niche to multi-disciplinary, from traditional to digital. This Directory is an alphabetical listing of international firms across any of the creative industries shown below:

An Invitation To Creative Souls

ABOUT ROCKBUND

ROCKBUND is situated where the Huangpu River meets the Suzhou Creek, at the beginning of the Bund. Over the last 16 years, many top architects and designers have been invited to participate in the project. David Chipperfield Architects, has been commissioned with the restoration and refurbishment of 11 historic buildings and the overall architectural design of ZA·Andrew & George Building. Arquitectonica has designed 5 new buildings. With the ROCKBUND whole project grand opening in 2022 , we are building a future-facing brand. To us it speaks of creative experiences that aim to challenge, educate, entertain and engage audiences ahead of the mainstream. The role of ROCKBUND is to cultivate a ‘society of creators’ and break down the barriers between art and the life, provide authentic and sincere experience.

One last thing

This Directory is just one initiative organised by BritCham Shanghai's Creative Industries & Marketing Committee. Our purpose is to enable international creative firms of all sizes to maximise the impact of their work in China. We are dedicated to advocating for fairer market conditions; delivering essential industry knowledge and training; and enabling access to the best new creative talent. Our Committee of working professionals all volunteer valuable time towards initiatives like this and rely upon membership fees to deliver even greater value. We welcome all international creative firms to join this member-based community and to get involved in our work. Please contact the team at BritCham Shanghai to find out more about how to join.
