One last thing

This Directory is just one initiative organised by BritCham Shanghai's Creative Industries & Marketing Committee. Our purpose is to enable international creative firms of all sizes to maximise the impact of their work in China. We are dedicated to advocating for fairer market conditions; delivering essential industry knowledge and training; and enabling access to the best new creative talent. Our Committee of working professionals all volunteer valuable time towards initiatives like this and rely upon membership fees to deliver even greater value. We welcome all international creative firms to join this member-based community and to get involved in our work. Please contact the team at BritCham Shanghai to find out more about how to join.
